Message to Members

Hello from the President

Dear Fellow Artists,

As another year comes to an end we are faced with a growing need for volunteers. I have enjoyed all three years as your president, but my husband and I are planning a move to the state of Kansas. Since I will be a great distance from the everyday business of KWS, we are in need of a President.

This is a very rewarding job and a wonderful organization. I have gained many friends and such wonderful experiences that I can not even begin to describe. Each of you deserve to have a president who will help to carry on the great tradition of KWS. I would like to have this year to help someone understand the organization and then take over the President's job.

This is a GREAT group of people and a WONDERFUL organization to be affiliated with, so would someone please step forward and take the job of Vice-President for the year 2011?

I'm looking forward to working with all of you and thanks again for such a great 3 years

Sincerely,

Jean Jansen, President

STERLING EDWARDS: Back by popular Demand!
HOW TO BE FREE OF YOUR COMFORT ZONES
(and learn how to be more creative in the process...)

AT THE KWS GALLERY AT MELLWOOD: April 11 - 14, 2011

Sterling Edwards is a contemporary watercolor master with an extraordinary ability to translate his thoughts into expressive and often abstract paintings. Predominantly self taught, Sterling has run the gauntlet of painting styles, from photorealism to total abstraction. Believing that there is a balance in the middle, he has developed an expressive style of painting that interprets everyday scenes and objects in a way that invites the viewers to expand their imaginations.

This maturity of style and daring to be original has earned Sterling the respect of his peers and art aficionados throughout the world. These qualities, combined with his ever growing popularity as an instructor have contributed to his successful watercolor workshops throughout the U.S. and Canada. His website is www.sterlingedwards.com.

Each morning Sterling will paint a complete watercolor painting, varying the subject and style each day and explaining each step of the process. Come prepared to have fun; to learn a lot and to have four wonderful days!

2010 Master Artist Recipient is Sara Roush

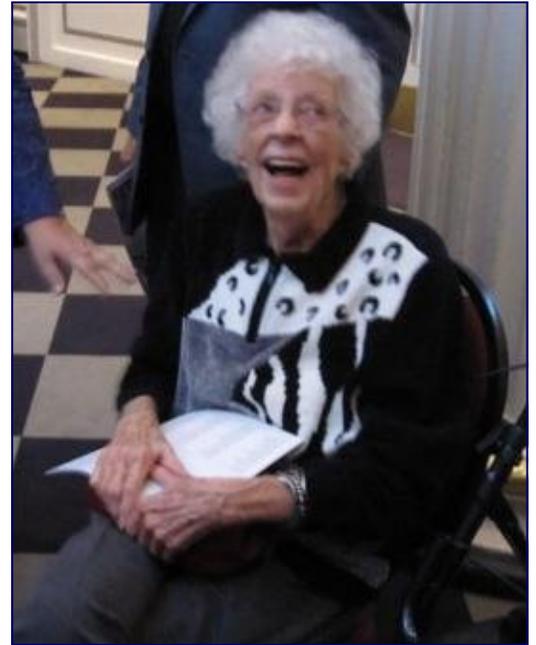

It is an honor to announce that the 2010 Master Painter Award has been awarded to KWS Signature Artist member, Sara Roush.

Sara's love for art began when growing up on a farm near a creek on the edge of a long valley. She and her two sisters drew continuously on paper provided by a doting uncle who worked for a paper company. Often, glimpses of these memories can still be seen in her work, such as stormclouds moving down the valley and the movement of water from a nearby creek.

Sara attended Ohio University, completed the famous Artist Course in Illustration and studied with various well known artists such as Edward Betts, Nita Engle, Irving Shapero, Zoltan Zaabo and Al Brouillette. Influencing her the most was John Pike, whom she considered a genius. An important lesson he taught was executing a small value and composition study beforehand in blacks and grays. The actual painting then will have fewer problems to solve.

Sara worked at an advertising agency in Louisville and was a successful free-lance illustrator for more than 35 years, supporting her two children as a single mom. She designed and illustrated numerous state brochures, including the Kentucky Derby Festival Program for 14 years. Her paintings are included in these books: Creative Seaside Painters, The New Spirit of Watercolor, and The Best of Watercolor. She is in numerous corporate and private collections and was honored to be named one of the Outstanding Kentucky Women Artists from 1850 – 2000 at the Owensboro Museum. Sara has been included in many other invitational shows such as the Creative Progressions in Washington, D.C., and The River and the Experienced Eye in the Owensboro Museum of Fine Arts.

Sara loves making ceramics and pottery along with daughter, Henrietta Scott, taking care of her cat, growing her delicious tomatoes, and playing Scrabble with her art buddies. She still enters many art exhibitions, winning many awards, both nationally and regionally. Sara is a true inspiration for the many students she has taught over the years and is very aware of what artists can mean to each other, as she credits her success in illustration to others in her field at the time. Her advice for beginners is to draw, draw, draw, especially from life, noting that a perfect day for her would be to hire a model and draw all day long! She says KWS has been an important part of her life for 33 years and thanks it for the opportunities to exhibit and learn more of her craft along the way and, especially, for bestowing this honor on her.

WE ARE SO PROUD OF OUR SARA!

PAINTING CHILDREN'S PORTRAITS FROM PHOTOS WITH JUDY MUDD - February 9 and 10

Learn to create portraits using your favorite children's photos. This workshop will include ways to get a likeness using contour drawing and improving accuracy using a Prospek tool, mixing various colors on the paper to create flesh tones then adding dabs of color to get shape and form. We will also learn to paint the details for eyes, lips, nose, ears and hair using multiple colors to create shading and highlights.

The workshop will be held at the KWS gallery at Mellwood from 10-4.
Cost $85. Drinks provided,

Do come; bring your lunch or buy it there. Class size is limited.
Send Sue Hinkebein a check (Payable to KWS) for $85 to attend.

Middletown Library Display

KWS members are invited to display their work at the Middletown Library. The next display will be hung Tuesday, December 7 at 9:30. Your picture should have wire for hanging on the hooks and you should include a card with the picture and your contact information. This is done on a rotating basis, the first Tuesday of every 3rd month. Contact Marian Lord 502.425.5356.

2010 New Member Show

2010 New Member Show time is here. All you artists who joined KWS in 2008, 2009 or 2010 are welcome to enter, if your dues are up-to-date. Last year we had a very good show and several paintings were sold. This will be an excellent time of the year to show your art because it will be hanging during the holidays. Paintings make wonderful Christmas gifts. You have a little time so get that paint brush out and paint a picture to enter. If you have never entered a show, this is a good one to start with.

See the prospectus on Page 5.
